CLASS HISTORY

The Wianno Senior Knockabout has been racing on Nantucket Sound since the summer of 1914. The boat was designed as a day sailor for summer residents of Wianno. It has remained the principal one-design class of the open waters of Nantucket Sound. In 2008 a European fleet was established in Porto Santo Stefano, Grosseto Italy.

The last new Wooden Wianno Senior was built in 1976. After a 10 year drought fleet elders commissioned Sparkman & Stephens and "design 2498" was created. The resultant Fiberglass Wianno Senior is "true to the original" visually and underway.

Close supervision by the Wianno Senior Class Association ensures that the integrity class is maintained and success on the water is the result of preparation by, and the ability of the skipper and crew.

RACING

Four Nantucket Sound yacht clubs offer regular weekend series races for Wianno Seniors. The season opener "Max Crosby Regatta" and mid season "Scudder Cup Series" brings the racing fleet together.

Class champions & Olympic sailors from various one designs are "regulars" to the Wianno Senior Fleet. Many boats are sailed by second or third generation family members. Competition is fierce; Nantucket Sound conditions always challenging, but one constant remains:

The legendary "Senior"
